

Why use COHSASA?

International Credibility

COHSASA has been accredited six times - continuously since 2002 - by the International Society for Quality in Health Care External Evaluation Association (ISQuaEEA), the leading global authority on healthcare accreditation.

It is the only ISQuaEEA-accredited organisation in Sub-Saharan Africa, with its standards and Surveyor Training Programme also accredited until 2027.

Cost-effective and Independent

COHSASA is impartial, independent, and non-political, with no shareholders or executive directors.

As a not-for-profit organisation, COHSASA ensures that its services are cost-effective for clients.

Data-Driven Decision Making

COHSASA's Quality Information System (CoQIS) provides real-time compliance data and identifies service gaps, allowing management to make informed decisions and optimise financial resource allocation.

African Expertise

With 30 years' experience of accrediting health facilities across Africa, COHSASA understands the region's unique healthcare challenges and cultural context.

COHSASA's quality improvement and accreditation programmes cater for all types of healthcare facilities, ensuring they meet high standards.

Its global collaborations enhance credibility and provide access to international best practices.

Skills Development and Empowerment

COHSASA builds capacity in healthcare facilities by empowering staff to take ownership of the programme and the continuous improvement processes.

It ensures facilities sustain the improvements through online monitoring
